

When I studied Communications Law in graduate school 20 years ago, I was proud of the protections and safeguards for our public airways. I realize that unfortunately, regulations have changed since then. And many of my fears are coming to fruition. This, however, is an extreme violation of a sacred public trust that you as FCC should be guiding over...PLEASE STOP IT>Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

When large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what's good and necessary for democracy. Sinclair's actions show why we need to re-strengthen media ownership rules instead of continuing to weaken them. Thank you.
